Prologue

More than half a century has passed since the end of the great war... The military research results on various special abilities and paranormal phenomena, which were vigorously pursued in Japan during the war, began to spread through the underworld after the chaotic postwar period. Research was mainly conducted on the brain activity of adolescent girls. While a series of abnormal abilities were discovered and elucidated, they were also abused, leading to numerous girls becoming experimental subjects for dissection. The Shijoji Zaibatsu, which protected the United Nations from disintegration, then used its vast financial resources to fund the establishment of an abnormal ability research and development organization. They elevated this organization into a state organ, specifically tasked with protecting these girls. This organization opened up a new path for girls with special abilities, where they would utilize their powers as crime-suppression officers for supernatural crimes. The group they formed was the Special Response Unit for Supernatural Crimes, "Synapse." Some armed criminal organizations were equipped with weapons that illegally utilized abnormal abilities and organized augmented humans, who were essentially artificial psychics with greatly enhanced physical functions through surgery. Against these criminal organizations, guns and even tanks were insignificant. However, when these criminal organizations encountered trained, equipped, and genuinely gifted girls whose abilities were enhanced, their power was as weak as infants', and they were exposed and dismantled one by one by the girls. It is evident that the number of psychic crimes within Japan has significantly decreased due to Synapse's work. However, psychic researchers who fled overseas, using their research and dissection techniques, gradually elucidated the abnormal abilities possessed by Synapse, which holds the most advanced psychic elite technology. In order to plunder these abilities, they began hunting the female combatants of Synapse...

Superpowered Girl Missing Contract

Let me turn these trash fish into charcoal.

Bring it on!".

Tsubaki Minato (11)

An agent belonging to the esper organization "Synapse". She has the ability to emit flames from both hands. She can unleash explosive flames in the direction she points. Although it's an extremely destructive esper ability, it's very difficult to control; therefore, Minato's costume was designed to control this ability. Due to long-term reliance on the bodysuit's function, she gradually neglected her own control over her esper ability. So, to prevent her from causing damage to her surroundings when not wearing the bodysuit, her superiors at Synapse ordered her to wear an esper control device.

As an esper, she possesses a rare talent. Relying on her talent, she doesn't strive for improvement and is extremely arrogant and confident. She looks down on others and doesn't acknowledge anyone besides herself. Not only towards criminal organizations, but she even uses her abilities on her companions to show off her talent, so people around her dislike her. For Minato, burning enemies to ashes is a way to show off, and even though her opponents are criminals, she doesn't see them as human at all. Although she usually gets first place in school, due to her arrogance, she doesn't have much popularity. Even when facing school staff, she treats them arrogantly with her status as a national agency agent.

When intense esper crimes occur, she also heads to the front lines to satisfy her desire for attention, so today too, she went to the crime scene alone.

What a pathetic bunch of worthless, brainless minnows! You should thank me for personally burning you to death!

Take this! You disobedient brats! I'll burn you all to ashes! How dare you oppose the power of the state, you fools!

After being neutralized, the originally arrogant and detestable brat has become quite boring. The superpower suit control device was used. Fortunately, the effect produced after Tsumaki Minato, who is extremely dependent on the bodysuit for controlling superpowers, used the control device was quite good. She actually burned off her own right arm, which is really unsightly. While she was still dumbfounded by the shock, quickly inject her with the superpower inhibitor and send her to the laboratory. After the fire was put out on Tsumaki Minato, her right arm, which was a valuable superpower sample, was also burned off. The researchers frowned with regret, secured her body, put on a mask, and a small part of her right arm remained after the fire was extinguished. To prevent this right arm from going berserk with superpowers, a large amount of inhibitor was injected into it. The mask can emit special electromagnetic waves that act on the brain, causing changes in brain waves...

...After a long time, the researchers were all eagerly eager because they hadn't gotten such a big prey for a long time. "This detestable brat burned many of our companions to death, and we all resent her. Now let's see how long she can hold on."

"Don't get too carried away, you brat. We're not fools. I saw you trembling in fear when both your arms were severed back then. Honestly, the precious sample was already damaged because one arm was burned off, and now I can't even get any information out of you. You're really worth less than garbage right now."

I still intend to endure this unbearable torture. To extract the psychic researcher, she was further cut on her already mangled arms. To prevent her escape, her legs were also cut off. For research, the bodies of superhumans are extremely necessary research subjects. The dissected limbs are basically kept, and the remaining head and torso will be processed into living dildos for the organization's members to use after the torture is over. When the body is used up and no longer useful, the brain will be removed and discarded. The removed brain will then be used by the organization as a living device. Possibly to vehemently deny that despairing future, even after having her limbs severed, Minato did not intend to stop her usual harsh words.

Hey, I remember.

意識

"Hey, hey, what's wrong? Since you've already become a human flesh dildo, hurry up and clench your little hole for me. If your little hole has no value, I'll strangle you." Hey, you damn small fries, you guys "are no match for our Synapse at all, go to hell all of you!" "...Honestly, 'I can't get any information through torture, you stubborn brat. It's about time we sent her to the doctor.'" "Guh-ohhh, if you want to apologize, now's the time...! If you apologize now, I'll let you die a more comfortable death..." "Ah, yes, yes."

"Ahhh, please stop! I apologize... Ahhh!" Inside the isolation torture building. Although her limbs were severed and she had undergone repeated torture, Miku tenaciously refused to reveal a single piece of information. But now, with her skull opened, she had no way to resist. This experiment, conducted for both torture and research purposes, instantly shattered the spirit that supported Miku. The mouth that had been spewing curses now began to utter apologies and pleas for mercy.

"Just kill me already, please kill me quickly! Is anyone there? Please, kill me! I... I can't take it anymore!" Miku pleaded for death. She felt her mind being drained away continuously, and was eventually consumed by this sensation, completely losing herself. Each time her brain was stirred and played with, she felt an electric shock throughout her body. This sensation had transformed into pleasure, and her body began desperately seeking this pleasure. Her body could only rely on this transformed pleasure for self-preservation.

The researcher stirred instruments inside Miku's brain, information about synapses and moans spilling out of her without reservation. She no longer knew what she was saying. In any case, she just wanted to escape her current state as quickly as possible... But the torture would continue indefinitely. She was now being toyed with like a doll, repeating information she had already confessed over and over again.....

"I... I, I said, I said, I said I'd tell you everything! So please, spare me!"

"So you've finally fallen, you've started to become boring." / "In the end, you're just a bitchy little brat. Since the opportunity is rare, I'll use this chance to find out some information about that damned bratty doctor." / "After she gives up her intel, bring her back to the processing facility. Then, just dissolve and destroy her." / "Ahhh, it feels so good... my brain... being stirred... so good..." Miku was now completely dominated by pleasure, with a stupid look on her face. She probably hadn't heard any of the previous conversation. She was likely completely unaware of the conversation that had just taken place.

Although she always maintains the top academic performance at school, she is disliked by those around her because she flaunts it. She acts arrogantly towards teachers, but the school tolerates Minato's behavior because she uses her title as a national agency agent as a shield. Although she has many followers of the same gender, they only see her as a source of money due to her wealth and have no real respect for her.

Her behavior is very bad, and she likes to toy with older men. Her wealth is due to financial support from numerous men she has toyed with.

Because the school is located within a mega-float city floating in the South Pacific, the uniforms are made of breathable material suitable for the climate. Underwear is also school-issued.

In the past, a female student's psychic abilities went out of control, causing many deaths within the school. Since then, students with psychic abilities have been required to wear ability-suppressing bracelets within the school premises in principle.

Minato, captured by a criminal organization engaged in human trafficking, is drugged, stripped of her freedom, and placed on a workbench to be processed as a commodity.

For a few weeks, Minato disappeared, and a video called "Educational Video" reached Synapse. "Hello Synapse members. You're a government-affiliated organization, yet you can't even manage a brat. Minato-chan will now cooperate as teaching material. Come on, Minato-chan, say hello to everyone~"

Ah! Nnnghh... O-Oh... Nnnnnghhh! Minato writhed, convulsing as a plug was inserted into her brain. Eventually, the violent seizures subsided, but she only emitted inarticulate groans and moans as if her ego was lost. When a member of the organization, looking disgusted, slapped Minato's cheek, there was no reaction.

This individual has made great contributions to ensuring the safety of many special individuals like the synapse members. Now the time has come to bid farewell to this individual. The surviving remnants of the synapse organization will witness the final moments of this individual's life on video; their brain being removed from their head, while their body is dissolved and disposed of by tentacles. She probably can no longer recognize what she is, nor understand how she is being processed. She is providing value to us even in her final moments.

Individuals whose usefulness has expired are placed in the tentacle pool to be drowned and ultimately dissolved for final disposal. The tentacle pool absorbs all matter as nutrients. Individuals who have been previously tortured and processed can be disposed of without leaving a trace here. For example, this individual who possesses the ability to generate flames. Her superpower has a high risk of going berserk. Although her arms have been amputated and she has been repeatedly given large amounts of inhibitory drugs, reducing the risk of going berserk to a very low level, the usual disposal method still carries a certain possibility. Therefore, this disposal method is also used as a precaution.

Superpowered girl's deficit contract

Shijoji Karin (16), 155cm tall, B104 W52 H95. An esper belonging to the "Synapse" psychic organization. She can accumulate massive amounts of electricity in her thighs and freely control it. She can use electricity to propel her muscles for high-speed movement, and she can also use electric currents to disable enemy security systems, allowing for stealth operations. Furthermore, she can unleash lightning bolts at targets or electrocute enemies by touching them with her feet, resulting in a highly lethal ability. She is the sole heiress of the wealthy Shijoji family. Due to this connection and her willingness to obey orders under the guise of legally harming criminals, she became a member of the organization. She is a sadist who enjoys using her powers to vent her emotions, particularly relishing the smell of charred remains after enemies are killed by electricity. Because her feet can discharge electricity and melt her shoes, she operates barefoot on missions.

She has a good relationship with her cousin, Kudo Hihana, and they both share sadistic tendencies. Karin considers Tsubaki Minato, who can efficiently burn and kill enemies with her abilities, a rival. Her 'Medusa Eyes', enhanced by synaptic technology, can petrify any creature she sees, classifying her as a Special A-class esper. (Also a yuri sadist with perverse desires)

She harbors an extreme aversion to men and wishes to eradicate them all from this world. Therefore, during battles, she disregards the safety of ordinary male civilians outside of her enemy, involving them in the conflict. (Rather, she actively escalates the damage)

She is cousins with Shijoji Karin. Because her own figure pales in comparison to Karin's, she harbors a deep inferiority complex. Especially when someone mentions her breasts, she petrifies them without question.

This time, along with Karin, she participated in a mission to infiltrate the enemy organization as part of the Tsubaki Minato rescue squad. Height 169cm, Weight 63kg, B108 W60 H92

A member of the psychic organization Synapse. Her ability allows her to generate an infinite number of blades from impurities in the air or iron sand she carries. She can use these blades for slashing attacks, project them with telekinesis, or use them as shields for blocking. In short, she has highly versatile and purely combat-oriented abilities. The source of her psychic power is brainwaves, and to prevent the danger of her brainwaves going into overdrive, she wears an accessory-type control device.

She comes from a prestigious martial arts family and is the only child. Her family has produced important figures who have held key positions in the military and police organizations for generations. She herself is also accomplished in both academics and martial arts, with noble character... However, this is all a facade she puts on. In reality, she views those without psychic abilities as inferior, which is evident in the details of her everyday words and actions. Her superb combat abilities are the result of training since childhood, and her swordsmanship is also extremely powerful.

During the operation to rescue Tsubaki Minato, she acted as the main force, following the vanguard Shijoji Karin's actions. During the operation, her control device was hacked by an enemy, causing her limbs to be severed by blades generated by her own abilities. She was also captured by the enemy.

I'm almost embarrassed to be slaughtering these opponents who have no superpowers, all by myself.

The girls, their hearts shaken, had their bodies suddenly sliced by blades generated by Yu Ren's superpowers. It turned out Yu Ren's brain had been connected to the bio-weapon's brain, and he was being influenced by the bio-weapon's will, forced to release his superpowers. "Damn it! I'll show you now! Belongs to the psychic organization "Synapse". Before this, she belonged to the army of a certain country. After the country was defeated and surrendered, the army disbanded, and she was subsequently scouted by Synapse.

She possesses super-regeneration abilities, with wounds from bullets healing in seconds. Her abilities are close to immortality, and there are rumors that even if her head is cut off, a new body will grow from it.

For many years, she has fought on the front lines of the battlefield with her regeneration ability, and as a result, she has become less sensitive to pain. She also enjoys getting injured, developing a severe masochistic tendency. She was originally a soldier specialized in using regenerative abilities, not opting for shooting, combat, or weapons. Recently, she likes to carry bombs and carry out attacks as if it were a prank. She got along well with Sayuri, who was also in the army, and they basically acted together both privately and on missions.

After Tsubaki Kominato was captured by the enemy organization, an rescue operation was launched.

Experimental Subject No. 108 Experimental Procedure Report

The experiment to extract No. 108's brain and draw out regenerative abilities has been declared successful. After the brain was extracted, No. 108's regenerative abilities disappeared. Simultaneously, it was observed that the extracted brain began to regenerate, thus determining its potential for reuse.

The ability extraction work is currently ongoing for use in superpower transplantation experiments; simultaneously, a project to produce feed for other livestock is also underway.

The hypertrophy caused by the brain has been confirmed to lead to memory confusion and mental abnormalities in Subject No. 108. As she is an individual with an extremely strong masochistic inclination, Subject No. 108 is currently in a relatively pleasant state. The above is the experimental content report from the dismantling operator.

Additionally, this berserk state can also be utilized. In response to this situation, a development project concerning growth promotion abilities has already begun. From this, it can be concluded that Subject No. 108 currently still holds extremely high utility value.

Furthermore, the plan to produce large amounts of feed in a short period has been proven feasible. It has been confirmed that large amounts of mother's milk can be produced from the hypertrophied breasts.

During the experiment, an unexpected byproduct was generated. By causing the brain and body to repeatedly regenerate missing parts in a short period, the regenerative abilities entered a state of near-berserk. The regenerated removed parts began to show a tendency toward gradual hypertrophy.

Ryoshin-hen

Tsugino Ryoma (16) Height: 153cm
Weight: 55kg BWH: 91-59-90

A member of the psychic organization 'Synapse'. Her ability is to absorb the impact of physical attacks and convert that stored energy into offensive power. Ryoma also practices ancient martial arts and is a master of various fighting techniques. Using the absorbed energy, her consecutive strikes can easily destroy reinforced concrete structures.

In battle, she seeks the thrill and excitement of a game. She dispenses vigilante justice to thugs, delinquents, and violent syndicates to satisfy her desires, and it was during this process that she was discovered by 'Synapse'. She learned her various fighting techniques while exploring more efficient ways to damage the human body.

Like Kyukki Yujin, she is a psychic who operates on the front lines. Because they often fight together and their individual growth paths are different, a relationship of irreconcilable rivalry has formed between them.

While tracking the whereabouts of the missing Yujin, she uncovered evidence of an arms deal being conducted by a criminal organization. During the suppression operation, she was hit by a powerful adhesive bullet, which sealed her impact absorption ability and led to her capture by the enemy.

I'll return it to you tenfold!

Do you really think bullets can do anything to me?

Bring the separation fluid for the new adhesive bullets.

Aggh

Ah, take your time, it's not like...

Let's cut off your hands and feet while we can.

Try it.

Ugh, gurgle, gurgle, I feel like my brain is melting, AAAAAAH!

As a human punching bag and sex toy, you dare threaten us!

I'm going to kill you all, you absolute idiots!

Hmph

I'm going to kill you all!

Ugh...

Oh, you're throwing up? It seems your body can't absorb the impact anymore. Then let's reclaim all this stored energy for the organization's effective use.

Gag, gag, gag...

Forcing energy absorption through cables connected to your body places an enormous strain on Ryoma's brain. When the brain damage reaches a certain point, he'll no longer be able to use his superpowers, and at that point, he'll be discarded.

The Tale of Sarayi

Gifted girl's long contract

Sayuri (real name unknown)

18 years old, 167cm height, B124cm (P) W65cm H107cm

A superpowered girl belonging to the superpowered organization "Synapse"

Kidnapped in her youth, she was then sent to a superpower research institute in a certain country, where she underwent extensive inhumane human experimentation as a test subject.

For several years, she has been used as a human weapon by the military of a certain country. Her ability is simple telekinesis, but it is extremely powerful, capable of even slicing through tank hulls.

Due to the various experiments she underwent, one of her screws seems to have come loose, making her somewhat abnormal. She has a cheerful personality and acts freely and unrestrained, but at the same time, she is extremely cruel, and her greatest pleasure is to dismember strong soldiers on the battlefield, turning them into meat chunks for her amusement. She gets along well with Tachibana, who belongs to the same military, and they often act together.

Although she has always acted like a sadist, when she saw a video in the military's data room depicting superpowered girls having their limbs severed and being brutally violated like sows, a repressed masochistic desire began to ignite deep within her heart.

One day, she suddenly destroyed the research institute and escaped from the military. She now spends her days aimlessly on the streets, sometimes killing for amusement on a whim. Later, she was recommended and recruited into the organization by Tachibana, who had become a member of Synapse, and the two became fellow superpowered individuals belonging to Synapse.

She later participated in the operation to rescue Mitsuki Tsubaki.

一边单一边在生殁

Sayuri, who was slaughtering the organization's combatants and enhanced humans, advanced deeper into the facility. Through the internal surveillance equipment, she learned that Tachibana had surrendered to the organization. "I knew she would betray me someday..."

Her limbs were completely severed, violated like a sex toy. Sayuri watched Tachibana's vacant expression on the monitor, and seeing her miserable state, Sayuri's breasts and clitoris also began to ache.

Sayuri heard footsteps and turned around to find herself surrounded by the organization's combatants. Since they were no match for Sayuri individually, they had brought the latest PK reflector devices this time. "Ahaha... This is quite the crisis..." The image of Tachibana's Daruma doll flashed in her mind, causing her clitoris to harden and become erect.

"Ahaha... I won't surrender as easily as she did!" As Sayuri infused her psychokinetic power into her fingertips, the combatants simultaneously readied their PK reflector devices. "You dare not dodge when facing me? Bold! Come at me, all of you who wish to be toyed with like pigs!"

The thrill of killing with power means nothing anymore. Only sparks of pleasure are crackling. I am a sow! I have now become a completely naked Daruma sow!

The boar's abnormally large penis almost pierced through my uterus! With the boar's powerful thrusting, my breasts, which had already turned into Daruma dolls, flailed wildly up and down. At this point, the only sound I could make was a pig squeal at the limit of my throat.

Oink, oink, oink! Grunt grunt grunt

This place is generally called the 'pig sty'. Stubborn women who resist will be thrown here and completely reduced to sows that can only be sexually violated by animals.

My screams echo deep within the organization's underground. The reflector mechanism bounced back the psychic energy I emitted, severing my arms and legs.

I've now become a sow that specializes in producing hybrid humans of man and pig!

Here, I can mate with the adult boars 24 hours a day, without stopping. My breasts have also been modified to be abnormally large, like a dairy cow's. They're like a bovine monster's, constantly gushing thick milk. My vision goes blank; it's truly comfortable! The caretakers told me this pleasure is hundreds of times stronger than male ejaculation. A I'm also carrying the offspring of myself and a boar in my belly.

I was judged to have good compatibility with the boars, so I was transferred from the pigsty to the mating room. Life here is the best! It's like paradise!

Doll Dancer's collection is normally used to help Dancer with chores around her. Her superpower is best suited for controlling dolls or puppets. She has no combat ability.

Nishinomiya Dancer (17)

A member of the "Synapse" superpower organization. She can inject her spirit into others or inorganic matter, thereby freely controlling these people and objects. When controlling inorganic matter, her own consciousness is preserved, allowing for independent control. Therefore, she can infiltrate enemy lines to gather information without much risk. She is very averse to hassle.

She strongly dislikes being given orders and usually has others do troublesome tasks for her. Using her superpower in her private life is common, not only for various chores but also for dangerous missions, where she uses her ability on her Synapse companions, treating them like disposable pawns.

Because her superpower affects the minds of herself and others, her brain easily accumulates fatigue, so she really likes to sleep. She considers rear support a great job because she can slack off and sleep at the base.

Her outfit is a dress type because she rarely goes to the front lines and usually acts as support or conducts espionage, so her fashion preferences differ greatly from Sou and Karin.

Being busy just means your work is necessary. For you, who can now complete tasks remotely without taking risks, work is a given. If you were still lazing around as usual, you'd be useless right now~

Black tea for you.

What a pain, it's all that idiot's fault. Now all the trouble has fallen on me... They all went on rescue missions, so the organization is really short-handed right now~

Hmm? (Noticing) Huh~? The 'genius scientist-chan' with that eccentric personality is actually making tea for someone? That's rare. You deserve praise. Don't take what I just said seriously.

Ah, speaking of which,

Hurry up, let's finish this and sneak out for a nap.

How did that fatty uncle with a loser face manage to become the Deputy Director? It's a mystery~ Come to think of it, ever since I joined Synapse, he's always found opportunities to talk to me. I just can't stand him, physically.

What... where...

Maiko-chan

The Deputy Director apparently wanted to talk to you about something. I didn't hear the specifics, but it's probably about Tsubaki Minato, right?

You are considered 'necessary' after all... So just do your best... ...

His breathing is also loud, even louder than mine.

Ah, really~

He should be coming over soon, shouldn't he?

Haaah... Maiko-chan... I love you, Maiko-chan...

It's not finished yet, Deputy Director. Please speed it up a little.

Is that so?

You should stop yourself too. Even the sows who went out on missions will be back soon. Of course, it doesn't matter if they never come back. But seriously, the other staff members will be here soon too.

Ahhh, I'm so sorry. Well then, Maiko-chan... Let's get going too. Come on, let's go together. Let's love each other forever from now on... Pffhe... Hehehe.

Psychic abilities that act on the mind are valuable research subjects. Maiko and the Deputy Commander will spend their lives in the laboratory's research rooms as experimental subjects for research. Even in this current situation, neither of them has given up on confirming their love for each other. In addition, the remaining body after the mind separates can also become pregnant and give birth, and it is possible to give birth to individuals with similar psychic abilities. Therefore, the researchers made the three of them repeatedly mate without rest. Maiko watched her own body, which had become miserable, until the day she died.

Literally, Maiko and the Deputy Commander became one mind. The minds of the two were whispering to each other. The body, now an empty shell, was continuously making pig grunts of "puh heh puh mee," indulging in pleasure, as if mocking Maiko who had fallen into despair. The empty shell body that had lost its mind was about to completely degenerate.

Maiko possesses psychic abilities that allow her to intervene in others' minds with her own consciousness. Through a special device, Maiko's mind was connected to the Deputy Commander's brain. Thus, her mind was forcibly intervened into the Deputy Commander's consciousness. When she opened her eyes, she saw her own miserable form with her hands and legs severed. Then, through her penis, she felt the warmth inside her vagina. And what she heard was her own scream, like a sow. "Puh heh... Dragon Island Sisters

Hikari Takijima

Belongs to the special ability organization "Synapse." Originally an orphan, she was recognized for her special ability talent by Synapse Director Takijima and taken in as his adopted daughter. She feels a deep sense of gratitude towards Director Takijima, calling him "Papa" and harboring affection for him. She is innocent and a jokester. Having lost her parents to an organization that opposes Synapse, she shows no mercy to the members of that organization.

She possesses the special ability to absorb sunlight through her pupils, amplify the absorbed light, and release it as a beam from her pupils or fingertips. The power of the beam is immense, but she must always absorb sunlight through her pupils, and can only use her ability in places where sunlight reaches her pupils. Furthermore, while her ability is active, her pupils are affected by all light other than sunlight.

Hikari Takishima (16) was originally an orphan. After revealing her personal superpowers, she was taken into the Synapse organization by an officer. She originally had a sister who was also an orphan. Her ability is to collect light entering her pupils into her body, then amplify the stored light energy and convert it into light to fire from her pupils or fingertips to attack enemies.

Takishima Shiori

14 years old. Belongs to the supernatural organization "Synapse." She is from the same orphanage as Hikari and they were both adopted by Director Takishima. She respects Director Takishima not only as a father but also as the leader of the organization, and she despises and shows hostility towards anyone who opposes him, even if they are allies.

She possesses the psychic ability to manipulate liquids, allowing her to freely control any visible liquid. By manipulating liquids, she can force them into a target's lungs, causing them to drown even on land. Although small in stature, her physical abilities are exceptionally high, excelling at assassinating VIPs and infiltrating enemy territory.

Her personality is calm, the opposite of Hikari's, but their sisterly relationship is good. However, she is also jealous of Hikari's complete devotion to Director Takishima, and is very possessive of him.

Wenmei's Chapter

Fumiko Nio

She belongs to the "Synapse" supernatural ability organization. She possesses the "Charm" supernatural ability, which affects the brain of living beings and induces a hypnotic state. She can hypnotize targets regardless of gender, but it is more effective on the opposite sex. Her hypnotic supernatural ability is shrouded in mystery, and it is unclear how she induces a hypnotic state in the target's brain. Since supernatural abilities have a close relationship with the brain of the ability user, researchers are interested in the possibility that her hypnotic ability, which affects the target's brain, may be more deeply connected to the ability user's brain than other supernatural abilities.

She has an arrogant and greedy personality, viewing everyone but herself as a tool. She evaluates others based on their usefulness and has toyed with numerous men using her supernatural ability. She calls men she deems useful "pigs" and is a sadist who takes pleasure in making them kneel before her. For "pigs" who resist, she intentionally induces a shallow hypnosis, gradually forcing them into submission.

As her supernatural ability works on all living beings, she was ordered to infiltrate a biological research institute that develops biological weapons and heads to the enemy organization's research facility.

Infiltration mission to the bio-research institute failed. What awaited Fumimi, who had killed countless men before, was a pig for crossbreeding experiments developed at the institute. Her brain was connected to the pig by a device for research on special abilities, enhancing her hypnotic abilities and amplifying pleasure to the extreme for sharing. "Gulp, slurp" She instinctively received the pleasure sent from each other's brains, and they ate each other.

With tentacles around her mouth, her head is firmly grasped and slowly savored, while at the same time her private parts are caressed, causing pleasure chemicals to secrete and making Fumimi's brain appreciate the flavor even more, captivating the human heart even as it becomes food. A melting sensation, like having loving sex with a lover, rushes through Fumimi's mind, and Fumimi's expression as she sits at the dinner table is filled with happiness.

Fumimi is captured after failing her infiltration mission into the bio-research institute. Through the intense torture and experiments by the researchers, secret information is extracted from her brain. Finally, she is placed on the dinner table of the institute's director, a dem-human who is a mollusk that favors brains as a delicacy. To this dem-human, the brains of espers with special tissues not found in ordinary people are a feast.

Himeko's Chapter

Himiko Shinomya (17)

Belongs to the supernatural ability organization "Neuron." She is a lady from a good family and a central leader among the ability users in the organization.

Nicknamed "Blade Arm," she wields a nodachi with ease and suppresses criminal organizations with her martial prowess. The nodachi is manufactured using Himiko's DNA information, so only Himiko, who possesses the authorized DNA, can wield it.

She has a strict personality and values discipline. While she deals with matters calmly, she harbors intense hatred for rampant criminal organizations and possesses extraordinary zeal for their eradication. Within the organization, she is the only one who can rein in the impulsive Mireia, and Mireia looks up to her. However, there are not a few who find Himiko's overbearing sense of justice annoying, and her excessive justice is also a factor that invites unrest.

While on a mission alone to suppress a criminal organization, she suddenly disappeared. This incident would become the trigger for Neuron's collapse.

"Help the weak and crush the strong. This is how ability users should be."

Ability users are treated rationally.

When they're in the can, they're stuffed inside.

Shall I send them back like this?

I've got to get them to spit it out...

Deprived of freedom of thought by drugs and equipment, her limb-less body was made a plaything for the members. Chikage Arc

Hattori Chikage (12)

Affiliated with the "Synapse" organization of special abilities. Her public persona is that of a junior idol, and she loves being adored by others more than anything. She resents Minato, who is doted upon as the youngest agent simply because she is one year younger. She believes connections are her greatest weapon and affectionately calls her senior, Karin, "Onee-sama," but in reality, she's just trying to curry favor with Karin, who is the daughter of a zaibatsu. She generally acts demure with everyone, looking down on others in her heart.
Height: 140cm

Despite her flamboyant personality, her special ability is "Silence." She can erase all sounds she makes and has enhanced physical abilities, making her the best at infiltration missions within the organization. Chikage herself doesn't particularly like her ability because her role is less flashy compared to Minato, Karin, Hikari, and others.

Utilizing her infiltration skills, she sneaks into the headquarters of "Manifold Inc.," a major pharmaceutical company with a constant stream of dark rumors. However, after that, all contact with Chikage is lost.

Hattori Chiharu (12) is a psychic affiliated with the Synapse Organization. She considers Minato her rival and greatly admires Karin, who is also opposed to Minato. However, her good relationship with Karin is merely a way to curry favor with Karin, who is the daughter of a zaibatsu. Her ability is 'Silence,' which allows her to completely erase her own voice.

She competes with Synapse in cracking down on special ability crimes and considers Tsubaki Minato, who belongs to a rival organization and is the same age, her arch-nemesis. Height: 135cm.

She comes from a very wealthy family with politician parents, but grew up dissatisfied with a life of luxury and chose to use her innate special abilities to crack down on special ability crimes. While she appears to be a dependable, student council president type, she throws tantrums when things don't go her way. She also behaves as if to flaunt her own competence, making her somewhat difficult to handle for people in the organization. She takes a provocative stance even towards criminal organizations and commits massacres in the name of eradicating crime. She often preaches about the harshness of living alone, but her narrow-mindedness makes her unconvincing. She has strong elitist beliefs as a special ability user and considers herself a chosen being. Her attitude towards those without special abilities is overtly hostile, and this doesn't change even towards her own allies.

"For someone without special abilities like you to offer me an opinion... You need to understand your position. It is only right for superior humans to interact with other superior humans."

She can fire compressed air from her palms and fingertips like bullets or cannonballs, and can freely manipulate the atmospheric pressure within her line of sight. If there is no target to manipulate, she can do nothing.

The minds of the gifted are a mystery to researchers.

Espers who have no value as research subjects are thrown in here as biological resources. They are directly injected with special medicinal solutions, their ego eventually fades away, and they are remodeled into biological resources down to the marrow of their bones.

The artificial tentacles developed to utilize espers as biological resources are designed to thoroughly drain the energy possessed by the espers.

Height: 137cm B121 W61 H82. She is dedicated to researching superpowers and became the head of Synapse's technical research at a young age. She possesses no special abilities and is just an ordinary human. However, she is a genius doctor whose research level in the field of espers is world-class. The attire and weapons equipped by espers are all products of her design. Because of this, she also holds the weaknesses of all espers. As she is a genius herself, she is quite conceited and strongly dislikes foolish people. Therefore, Amanono, who is not an esper, looks down on those simple-minded espers who act solely based on their abilities and do not use their brains, and they have a hostile relationship. She graduated from a foreign engineering university at the age of 13, where she met Dr. Elena, who is now second in command, and took her on as her only trusted assistant. From a young age, she drank large amounts of milk to increase her height, but it all went to her chest, which she regrets. However, she has no regrets and still drinks milk today. Her bust is currently growing by several centimeters per year. In addition, her height shrinks by half a centimeter each year.

Of course I'll kill you. Once I get bored of you, you're disposable. And what made you think you could hang yourself? You've got thick legs and weak arms, so you've lost 60% of your body weight. You couldn't die even if you hung yourself all day. Give up already and wank yourself off! That's the only thing a pig like you is good for!

Please scratch it!

Person

I think hanging and strangulation play are wonderful, so I wish they were more popular.

The smoking room is in this room. The unprocessed sows are hung up like ham and trained until they mature. Because the weight of the sows is greatly reduced by removing their limbs, they won't be strangled even when hung by the neck. However, having their necks constricted will keep their brains in a state of oxygen deprivation, allowing them to be trained into submissive and docile sows in a short period. Unlike the arms and legs that can be sold immediately, the processing and disassembly of the torso are accompanied by issues with feces and urine. Therefore, sows scheduled for C-grade or higher processing are kept in the smoking room for one to two weeks, fed only with live gel (made from the meat and bone powder of other discarded sows) to empty their digestive organs, ensuring hygiene during subsequent disassembly!

The headquarters of the Synaptic Organization also houses many uncompleted trainee probationary officers acting as combatants, as well as many overseas trainees promoting the peaceful use of espers' abilities or here for international cooperation, including novice espers, researchers, and so on. There are also some intellectuals here who are instilling knowledge about espers into pre-pubescent girls while discovering their abilities. Most of them are still here assisting with research. Due to their incomplete armament, they were wiped out and captured by the enemy's assault troops. Since these girls are not yet mature, it is highly likely that there are potential individuals with extremely strong abilities among them. However, because they are all very young, this difference is not very apparent and therefore difficult to discern. Thus, the researchers of the enemy organization could only mechanically extract all obtainable information from the minds of all the young girls.

"Aaaah, I'm sorry, I'm sorry! Dad, Mom, hurry and save me!"

This individual is the only daughter of a certain influential figure with considerable speaking power in politics. He is very concerned about whether his daughter is an esper or not. So in their name, her parents placed her in the Synaptic Organization under the guise of an examination. However, her autopsy results were negative; she does not possess esper abilities and is just a normal human. Her parents will probably be very happy. / However, as a commodity, her figure is too poor, so she can only be put into the shredder.

Kimoshi Kisuu (10)

A person with the superpower to read minds and synchronize with others' thoughts can use it without distance limitations on anyone they've met, making it an incredibly powerful ability. However, as an immature novice, she hasn't mastered control. When she usually uses her ability, she often syncs deeply with the target's inner self. Not only do memories synchronize, but emotions and pain also sync. If the other person is asleep, she falls asleep too, and if the other person dies, her heartbeat stops. Therefore, the organization strictly forbids her from using her ability without knowing the other person's exact condition.

The moment Kisuu synchronized with Karin, who had aimed to achieve merits in the Synapse Organization but unfortunately fell into enemy hands and completely degenerated into a sow, her brain cells died immediately. In an instant, she also degenerated into a sow. She became unable to even masturbate unless a male owner commanded her. Moreover, she could no longer eat the same food as humans. Within the Synapse Organization, she couldn't even pretend to be human, so after just two days, she surrendered to the enemy organization along with other masochistic companions. She knelt before the enemy, begging them to let her become a true sow.

B-but, if we come here to accept your execution, all the esper girls will be processed by our masters without a single one left... That's the happy future we saw!

Y-yes, sir. I foresaw through my abilities that you would attack the headquarters in 5 days, so 30% of the espers have already fled the base in advance.

So, these are the little perverted mutants who surrendered earlier, aren't they? All three of their names are on the list of espers. Mind-reading, precognition, and clairvoyance. They have zero combat ability, but they're S-class and quite convenient, aren't they? So, you foresaw the current situation of your fellow mutant companions and your own future through your abilities, and thus came to surrender together with them?

""""Thank you so much!""""

What a bunch of hopeless masochistic mutants! Fine, as you wish, we'll dismember you. Your brains will be used for research on S-class abilities, and your bodies will be processed into merchandise. So, you will be used by us until you break!

I-I want to become a fine mutant like my senpai, so please kill me! Of course, I'm still a virgin, and my meat has no fishy smell at all.

These uncles had already seen me at social gatherings before, and it seemed like they were quite unhappy with my arrogant and rude attitude even back then... They also felt that Father's increasing power after joining forces with Synapse was a great obstacle to them, so they contacted terrorists and sold them information.

Video recording after Asagirim Lily's capture: Neromashin

Father... can you see me? After the Synapse organization was attacked and I was taken by the enemy, I was sold to these highly influential uncles in the financial world. I am currently being raped by the uncles while my body is being dissected bit by bit.

By now, I have been raped by approximately 30 uncles. My virgin orifices and my anus have been mercilessly violated by the uncles' thick members. I had my limbs severed while speaking arrogantly.

[redacted]

After this, I will be raped and dissected again. I will continue to be educated by the uncles' members until I become a lady who immediately squirts upon seeing a ♥ member.

After I completely become a fleshlight, I will be sent sequentially to every uncle across the country for them to play with my fleshlight orifice. Now, my orifice only has value when it's empty. I am truly grateful to these uncles for effectively utilizing my life like this...

Once they are all used up, I will be sent back to the terrorists and then reutilized as an experimental animal. So, Father, please don't worry.

Also, by the time Father sees this video, the terrorist troops will already be heading to your location... Goodbye, Father.

Subject No. 6. An individual who greatly contributed to the advancement of special ability research. She possessed peculiar emotional characteristics, which unfortunately caused her special abilities to go out of control, resulting in numerous casualties. During her capture, she resisted fiercely, so her legs had to be amputated out of necessity before she was brought to the lab. The suppression of her special abilities was successful through drug administration, which also served as a test. As she began to calm down, the researchers' persuasion began.

She seemed to have originally had a peaceful and gentle personality. She was persuaded by researchers that scientific advancement would lead to world peace and, above all, concerned about her family's bright future, she gladly offered herself to the lab. Due to her devoted attitude towards research, it was discovered that special abilities are closely related to the brain, revealing the full picture of the abilities that had been shrouded until then. Even now, Subject No. 6's brain tissue continues to contribute to the advancement of special ability research, connected to the lab's host computer.

Among the captured espers, those who resist fiercely or stubbornly refuse to talk are taken to the special torture chamber. The torturers mechanically extract information from the espers lined up in a row. Their limbs are severed, their heads are opened and their brains manipulated, while being subjected to forced pleasure along with pain. After the information is extracted, they are generally disposed of. Those suited for information processing are processed into bio-devices and shipped to the black market.

- Reunion of the Heroes -

For Adults Only

Prologue

Half a century has passed since the last Great War... The special ability and supernatural phenomenon-related military research conducted in wartime Japan spread into the underworld after the post-war chaos. The 'Synapse,' a special unit for abnormal ability crime countermeasures, stands as the last line of defense against this spread. Its Japanese headquarters was attacked by a criminal organization, and the ability-using girls belonging to the unit also went missing.

X years after the attack—

Leveraging the ability-using technology plundered from the Japanese headquarters, the criminal organization achieved a leap in growth. Nations in Asia, Africa, and South America have fallen entirely under the organization's control, becoming complete no-man's-lands. Girls who might awaken abilities are exploited by the organization, women's human rights are nonexistent, and a nation where women are treated as less than human has been formed, devoid of morality.

In place of the destroyed Japanese headquarters, the European branch, inheriting its functions, gathered ability-using girls from around the world to continue the struggle and protect a rational and equal society. They are the last remaining heroes of justice on Earth.

However, armed with advanced ability-using technology obtained from dissecting the ability-using girls from the Japanese headquarters, the criminal organization now targets the kind-hearted girls of Synapse's European branch, humanity's last bastion, as their next objective.

Ability: Million Deaths Cat

An agent belonging to the 'Synapse' European branch, which became a provisional headquarters due to the destruction of the Japanese headquarters.

Her S-class ability automatically activates after her physical body dies, rewinding time to the 'save point'.

Because only Yulia herself retains memories of the future, she is an invincible agent who can repeat until successful, no matter the mission or crisis. However, this is only a single success, based on countless unknown deaths, rapes, and tortures. In thousands of life and death rewinds, Yulia's mind has developed some slight disorders. In her childhood, Yulia was kidnapped by an old Russian criminal organization and, as the protagonist of snuff films, triggered her ability for the first time during the climax of her execution.

A 'save point' can be set freely at any time, but only one save point can be set at a time. To prevent situations like illness or imprisonment that would prevent Yulia from activating it manually, she generally reserves over a week for revival. Due to jumps, the actual time lived has far exceeded several decades, and because she can grasp future information, she has amassed vast wealth through stocks, gambling, etc. However, the pleasure that can be obtained through money and drugs is far from comparable to the thrill she gets from suicidal masturbation.

Yulia went to investigate because she obtained information related to a murderer known as the 'Vessel Collector', who collects numerous female bodies, and the organization that initially killed her, however...

Does every guy look like a happy sow, just hanging there? Are they climaxing even though they've lost their limbs? Although I can use my own fingers to rub my [censored] now, if I were also processed into a Daruma, I'd become a useless collectible like these guys. Climaxing just from being hung up, like a sow? Why do you guys look like this, still clinging to life in this world? Aren't you ashamed? There are 200 of them in this warehouse alone. As expected of the "Vessel Collector," who can gather so many young, masochistic women with chests over 100 cm.

Wow, amazing! This pigsty-like scent of rut is really something. You guys have all become like this, still clinging to life in this world. Aren't you ashamed? There are 200 of them in this warehouse alone. As expected of the "Vessel Collector," who can gather so many young, masochistic women with chests over 100 cm.

You must be mistaken! Miss Julia, our Master would never abandon us pigs! You want to be a sex-slave cum dumpster for him? There are plenty of other women on Earth besides us. Once we turn 20 and become aunties, we "graduate" voluntarily and make way for younger pigs to be his cum dumpsters. Nice to meet you, "Cup Collector" ♪ I am Agent Yulia, an S-class agent ordered by "Synapse" to eliminate you~ Yulia~ About how you use those who you treat as cum dumpsters until they're corpses, trash, and then dismembered and discarded... that's a serious problem, isn't it? Are you aware of that?

Hm? How did you get in here? Are you a volunteer pig?

I see, I see, I get it! But, well, I'm a soldier after all. If I don't kill you, I won't be able to report back... Ah! For some reason, the communicator signal suddenly got really bad.

By the way, how about processing this arrogant investigator with a 132cm bust into a daruma doll giving her a nose ring~? How's this? After all, she's still only 16, past the shelf-life, so she can probably be used for a few more years~? Let's silence her like this, and once she's no longer usable, kill her outright!

The Immortal Life-Extender (Yulia Meat Processed Product) held by the 'Cup Collector'.

A portable device processed from the fallen former S-class agent 'Synapse', Yulia Ivanova, who was fitted with a nose ring as a test pig. For the owner, the 'Cup Collector', if the heart stops, bombs buried in the device's brainstem, spinal cord, and heart will automatically detonate, instantly ending the device's life. Then, the ability held by Yulia, who served as the raw material, will activate, and the device will return to the 'past' to tell the owner how they will die. After receiving this advice, the owner can perfectly avoid death with 100% certainty. Her trust in her master is almost fanatical, and she is excellent as a portable fleshlight. She is the 'Cup Collector's' favorite convenient collectible.

Ayame Kiryuin (14)

Height: 143cm, B102, W58, H89

Belongs to the abnormal ability organization 'Synapse' and is a synthesized human fused with a demon. Her ability is 'Demon Summoning'.

Through 'Mappa's Hand', she can summon the giant arm of a demon, possessing monstrous strength capable of crushing and tearing humans like insects. Through 'Ouroboros' Eye', she summons the demon's eye that peeks into the future, allowing her to see events a few hours in advance. Furthermore, due to the fusion with the demon, her body possesses immortality.

Although her abilities are near-invincible, because the demon was forcibly fused into her body, if the 'Synapse-manufactured pendant-type control device' worn on her chest is destroyed, she will lose control of the demon and all her powers.

She was originally an ability nullifier. As an excellent researcher, out of admiration and jealousy towards those with abnormal abilities, she lamented her lack of powers and voluntarily stepped onto the experimental platform for artificial ability research. She overcame the rejection reaction with her sheer willpower and obtained the power she always dreamed of.

Having gained demonic power, she is still occasionally influenced by the demon, referring to herself as the 'chosen one'. Her personality is extremely twisted, and she mocks those without abilities or with weak abilities as 'monkeys'.

It stinks! What a nauseating smell! Scum of society! A monkey like you, without powers, shouldn't even exist in this world.

Hmph... I can't believe an esper got caught by a guy like this. How stupid... It's utterly disgraceful... He's no different from a monkey. We have to get rid of them both.

Now then, where is the next group of monkeys? 'Ouroboros Eye'! Show me the next future!

Bye-bye.

Is this the future?

oh

Public

By a group of monkeys... how cruel, but why... even with their hands and feet cut off, and being played with by disgusting dicks, why do they look so happy...?

B No... Impossible! Someone as strong as me could never become that way, absolutely not!

It feels very comfortable

Sweet... careless...

Ah... my hands and waist can't help but...

Hey! Look at this brat's D card, all dark attributes activated? So disgusting...

Hurry! Go, wear her down! I'll make you pregnant with an ape's child, you little brat!

6 hours later

Haaah... Trash... Without the control device, you're just a stinking brat. You got like this after just one shot? Resist a little!

Enough talk! Watch me give you another aphrodisiac injection!

No... that's...

So this is the rumored synthetic human?

It's the human experimentation secretly conducted by 'Synapse'.

Yeah, isn't that the guy who messed up in the end? So, was this guy originally a non-ability user too? Turns out this guy is also an ape, this is hilarious w And a failure at that w

I'm going to die from how comfortable this is...

Being completely dominated... So strong. My stomach... feels warm.

Choke: My mind can't think about anything with all the pleasure rushing in...

So which side will you choose? Which side is Ayame's happiness?

This over here is Ayame's extremely important control device.

This is a special synthesized drug made from a mix of amnesiacs and a super-concentrated aphrodisiac. After drinking it, you'll forget your powers and past memories. It's a drug that will make you feel ♩♪ heavenly pleasure.

12 hours later

To this point, she's convulsing nonstop with a face so blissful it's almost broken. It's about time... Hey! Get that thing out.

Come on, Ayame's reward time!

Rather than continuing to be a failure,

Because without the control device, I'm just a defective product that can't do anything.

In the end, even after gaining my powers on the day of the experiment, my feelings were not satisfied.

But...

Is that really

Really?

My happiness?

Co-control device! With that, my powers will...

Just like my future self.

Like what I saw back then...

At least... I can be a real female.

That's so mean!

w

There's no way that brat who called us monkeys would ever give us a chance to kill her, right?

w

She's gentle, isn't she? Actually, that control device was already broken when she was tricked into coming here, so no matter what she chose, she was always going to end up as a commode, you know? w

If she gets her control device back, she might be able to kill us! You really let her choose?! I guess you're quite the softie, huh? ~w

Ahhhh~ If it's like this, my brains will melt! Once we extract the data from the synthesis experiment, we can just dump it as scrap.

Contract with the Ability User Girl
– Reunion of the Heroes

Elsa Valentine de Vernal
Age 19 B78 W55 H86

• The ability to foresee the end: She can foresee everyone's 'end'.

• Abilities: "Defense Wall" and "Rebound". The "Defense Wall" prevents her from getting hurt. If someone tries to harm her, the "Rebound" ability will return the damage to the assailant exactly as it was.

Ever since she discovered her abilities in childhood, she has constantly heard the cries of others at the brink of death. As a result of constantly peering into others' 'ends', her psyche began to warp. This lingering wail tormented her with chronic headaches, and before she knew it, she came to believe that this world was hell and only by ascending would all souls be purified.

At some point in the past, she realized her anomaly wasn't limited to that. This is because she remained unscathed even after a severe accident. As such, she would be unstoppable until the very last moment before her life burns out.

The so-called "end" simply means death, and the final moment of every human at the time of death.

Considering this anomaly is innate, it's no exaggeration to call it a curse. And if evaluated by the actions of "synapses," it has virtually no practical use.

Due to her anomaly, her headaches worsened day by day. Once, she tried to imagine someone's end as her own and masturbated, instantly reaching climax accompanied by abnormal excitement. She then interpreted this as a revelation granted by God. From then on, she began to abduct young girls and send them to the "processing plant." Each time she overlapped a girl's end with her own, and in the moment of escalating climax, her headaches would vanish... Believing this to be God's blessing, her inhumane acts intensified. Even so, Elsa could maintain her position as steady as a rock entirely due to her cunning and cold-bloodedness. She would resort to any means necessary just to climb aboard the supernatural crime organization.

The end of the nameless ones

Since I was young, I've seen hundreds, thousands, tens of thousands

So many that they've lost all meaning.

In this world, screams echo

RA

!!

Can I be freed from this unbearable headache

Only when I merge someone's end with my own and masturbate

My headache never stops

Because of this supernatural ability,

"I've pursued all sorts of pleasures, but none could surpass it.

Fully utilize wealth, status, and power to expand connections

At some point, I began to believe this was a trial given to me by God.

啊♥

Uncle...

The world in the heavens must have no screams, nor will it be tormented by headaches

Sigh

And then that final moment will be my brand new beginning

If my position in this hell rises higher, at the moment the true end comes, I will surely receive a joy that cannot be given by anything else

By merging these ends with herself and constantly pleasuring herself, Elsa's headaches vanish as if the clear sky were 10,000 miles wide.

She calls this "soul purification". After processing the girls, she bestows "the end" upon them.

Exclusively used to process the girls she has lured.

This underground processing plant that Elsa owns

This

And as the savior, this is my mission.

Me

That's right.

This is the only salvation given by God in this hellish world.

What an ugly sight.

Feeling the meaning of God sending me to this world sends me to climax.

The moment these souls merge with me fills my heart with excitement.

Each time I complete my mission, my soul is also purified.

I can feel the joy of the girls' souls.

what

Me...?

Hello~☆

Hey

Hey!

Seriously, why won't you wake up?

Michael...!?

How are you feeling? Lady Elsa...

Nee~ Daddy~♪

Looks like you're awake~?

This...

It doesn't seem like a dream...

Why is there another me here?

Speaking of which, I haven't introduced this child yet...

This female is a clone of Lady Elsa, meticulously created by me over many years.

Our plan is going pretty well, isn't it? It was really painful always listening to your unreasonable demands.

At this point, I don't think I need to explain anything further... Hoho, but I'll tell you anyway.

Tell me, what exactly is going on?

Depending on the circumstances, I might consider forgiving you.

It wouldn't be that difficult to obtain financial aid and technical support for special abilities from those who are trying to get rid of Elsa-sama.

Elsa-sama, your ability is considered troublesome within "Synapse" as well, and you should be well aware of it yourself.

After I created a perfect clone of Elsa-sama, I secretly conducted research to interfere with this special ability.

But this kind of special ability is completely useless for "synapse" activity.

Elsa-sama's special ability is something that we mortals can never reach, no matter what.

的

While my soul is in ecstasy, my body trembles with terror.

My heart is so full, and the time for my own salvation has finally come.

Ahh... Lord... this moment has finally arrived.

Hahaha

A

I'm very sorry, Elsa-sama, her insatiable, lewd constitution is a bit uncontrollable.

To show such a happy expression at that man's penis.

ちゅぱ

はぁはぁ

Hey, hey, Elsa, when I'm explaining...

Now then,

That should be about enough of that.

Please rest assured, if we process you like this until death, we'll make good use of every last bit of flesh and skin.

"Yeah

I will usher in the "End".

(Shh shh shh shh..

Quicker~ Daddy~ [Please stick it in Mommy's little hole quickly~]

All the surrounding flesh is going into the grinder

Ah! My body!

My body is being destroyed

This is true salvation, this is the final hammer given by God.

The end has come.

Then, before pulling the tooth, I'll give you another dose of that pain-numbing medicine~

Please forgive me...

Hi...

Lord 啊啊..

Look at this!

Am I even cuter now that my mouth is made for sucking cock?

The way they look after the first stage of processing and taming.

トオ

We will immediately begin cultivating the meat.

This is what the sows look like right after being processed and just brought into the factory.

This time, we will present the fattening process of the sows to everyone in a special visual format.

How have you all been lately?

In the first stage, we will continuously cultivate the meat daruma while injecting drugs and softening the vagina and uterus.

Rejoice, sows! As livestock, you get to enjoy the semen of the great humans and even get pregnant from it.

In this way, by repeatedly mating, the essence of being livestock will be thoroughly instilled into their brains.

Sky

ボベッ

creak

slide

NADA

At this stage, most sows will yield and become pregnant. Oh, everyone, please look!

What a powerful ejaculation! This sow has no other choice but to get pregnant.

Bu

Oh dear, this livestock animal spit out the feed. So, the pussy will be lonely at noon.

If you spit it out, I won't be able to fuck you at noon anymore, okay?

In this feeding zone, the livestock will be forcibly fed to increase the sow's body fat content.

This is what phase two looks like.

Phase two: Forced feeding and medication to complete the body modification.

Oh my, it seems she mistook the dick for the feeding tube.

A large amount of semen flowed into her stomach, and she looked quite satisfied afterward.

Everyone, please look. This sow's stomach has already expanded, and her breasts have swelled due to hormone injections. The forced feeding has made her belly full and plump. It seems she can never return to her original figure.

A month passed after that.

I tried to ask the breeder for information.

Are you talking about raising pigs? Of course, I'm very happy. It's even better lately!

Speaking of which~ I've been a big fan of someone for a long time. That person is truly beautiful...

For someone like me, that's an unattainable existence. After all, she's a flower on a high mountain.

This guy is now a perverted, masochistic pig whose neck is being choked, yet she can still tightly clench her little hole and feel pleasure from it.

Hey! I'm about to cum... Tighten your little hole for me.

Everyone, come and see! This pig face! Isn't it cute?

And the result? This pig is exactly like her... It made me more excited than usual, so I use her well every day (laughs).

Look, it's a reward~

The third phase involves forcibly delivering and milking pregnant livestock.

Finally, we've arrived at this incredibly exciting final stage. The sows, whose bellies and udders have swollen and sagged during pregnancy, will be moved to this area.

Once the sows can no longer continue to be impregnated and their milk has been squeezed dry, they will face their final task and be broken down into edible meat chunks.

Down

Such impressive ejaculation. Even though she's about to give birth, he's still violently thrusting into the birthing sow.

After enduring impacts like a jackhammer, the sow can't help but start vomiting.

Oh no! It turns out that the shock from that divine ejaculation just now broke the amniotic fluid!

Most sows that are ejaculated in show pleasure, but this one seems a bit uncomfortable.

tut

Huh? This sow looks a little strange.

Chayama

Vrrrum

A few hours after the amniotic fluid broke, a little head finally emerged.

The sow also is trying desperately.

The sow also seemed relieved that the birth was safe. Oh my, it seems the penis is more important than her own children.

If the offspring is male, it will be immediately disposed of. If it's female, it will be kept and raised as livestock.

This cycle continues, and livestock multiply.

Big

You did take care of me back then, so I guess I'll return the favor a little.

It's amazing you could survive in such harsh conditions. If I hadn't been a little more careful, you probably would have ended up in a meat grinder by now.

It's karma.

So ugly.

Although the stitching is a bit rough, it's good enough for you as a pet.

One year later.

Heh, it suits you perfectly.

manai

That arrogant woman who used to look down on me and treat me like a ball.

Heh heh, this really cheers me up.

Lord Michael, really, you already have my pussy.

mu

It's such a waste to give it to such a low-quality hole.

Like a pig, you leave saliva and try to seduce me.

Now, as soon as you see a penis, you start wriggling around with your limbless body.

Afterwards, I'll fuck you until you're incredibly satisfied.

That's great!

Seriously, shouldn't it be meowing here?

I should sew pig ears onto it, right?

Hey, hey! If you don't tie me up properly, I'll grind you into mince!

Spray is a bit loose.

After I ejaculate, I should say 'Thank you, Master,' right?

Hahaha, it's a total crap-mobile! It looks like those men over there are also facing hardships.

Once I'm tired of playing, I'll just feed it to the pigs.

As my exclusive flesh puppet, I'll use you completely until your marrow is gone.

Hehehe... I will completely dominate the flesh and blood of these guys.

Belongs to the esper organization "Synapse". She is an esper who can freely manipulate water. Her effective range is 30 meters. She is practically invincible against humans, who are composed of 60% water. The bracelets she wears on her wrists and ankles greatly amplify her esper abilities.

Lily's primary attack method is to freeze the water within her body and then finish off her opponents with a small hammer she keeps at her waist. (This looks flashy and refreshing)

In short, she's an arrogant brat. She claims to fight for justice but abuses her esper powers and relentlessly crushes her enemies.

She believes she was born into a prestigious family, but in reality, she was merely an abandoned infant who was taken in because she had esper abilities.

Her adoptive family is extremely arrogant and snobbish. From a young age, she was indoctrinated with the idea that commoners are evil and that it is the duty of nobility to eliminate them.

Although they diligently trained her as an esper, they have no blood relation to her, and she would be discarded once she lost her usefulness. She herself deeply respects her family and desperately wants to meet their expectations.

She has Platonic ideas about love and sexual preference. She is strongly fixated on marrying a handsome, wealthy nobleman who matches her status and building a happy family.

Marilyn V. Pirouette (16)

A genius witch who could summon the great demon "Delumdon" since childhood. Although Marilyn diligently researches magic, she is an extremely arrogant and unethical psychopath. She only treats others as experimental subjects. In elementary school, she continuously used classmates and demons for mating experiments, resulting in many deaths.

Because that tricky incident had gone beyond her control, the head of the Pirouette family, in order to isolate and monitor Marilyn, entrusted Marilyn to "Synapse". As Marilyn was cultivated as a genius since childhood, she developed a personality that wouldn't listen to anyone. She has a strong interest in highly sophisticated research facilities and illegal experiments, so she was willing to join "Synapse".

Marilyn currently belongs to the artificial ability research department of the■■■ (supernatural ability) organization "Synapse". When conducting synthesis experiments on Kiryuin Ayame, she summoned an experimental demon.

Marilyn is a member of a witch family that has continued from the Middle Ages to the present. Since ancient times, her family has gained supernatural abilities through magic research, and Marilyn herself inherited this unique ability passed down through generations. Her ancestors, with their supernatural abilities, gained noble status while also being witches.

Her ability is "Unreasonable Contract". This supernatural ability allows Marilyn to directly summon and command demons without any sacrifice or cost, and without any risk.

She uses her supernatural ability to command the great demon "Delumdon". However, Marilyn's physical condition is ultimately that of a mortal, but as long as she has the protection of "Delumdon", she will not suffer any harm.

Huh? You dare talk to me so arrogantly when my powers mean you can't even touch a single finger of mine!

Unforgivable! I will definitely repay this favor!

Stupid! You haven't paid any price equal to this!

That pig woman!! She definitely used her powers to peek into my memories and then sold me out!

Zoe... are you a black pig!?

You can read minds without direct contact...

But I've already set up a barrier on myself! How did you do it?

I haven't even left a single piece of paper... why? Is it a mind-reader!?

It's clearly an interpretation and study of my powers!?

That's a demon's contract array? That's a secret technique only I know, but why!?

Delurmdun!!! Kill that guy...

This is bad! My powers are being interfered with! My contract with Delurmdun is about to be stolen by someone else!

I'm gonna tear apart!!! I'm gonna die!!!

Too

Stop it, quick!!!!

Yaaahh!!!

You'll be in a situation worse than death until you pay back everything you owe until now.

Your terror and despair are sweet, but not nearly enough...

Don't worry, I will bestow upon you the blessing of immortality and the pleasure of drunken dreams.

Quick, save me!!!

Nooooo!!!

Head

Cay

The pain, pleasure, terror, and happiness all rushed in at once.

Aaaah, what is this devil's curse?♥♥ My whole body is tearing apart, but I'm about to climax, why...!? Ohhh

Delumpton made demands to the crime syndicate. They needed a farm exclusively for demons: the 'Orchard.' Here... they would use the bizarre powers stolen from the witch, and the sows would continuously summon demons.

After Delumpton tore the witch's limbs apart, the crime syndicate made a contract with Delumpton in place of the witch.

Gusipar

At the same time, all the emotions were drawn out of the fruits by Delumpton. These emotions were used as nourishment for the demons.

Through a contract array carved into the uterus, the Fruits are forced to contract with demons, continuously summoning a large number of demons from the womb. That witch named Marilyn, who serves as the nursery, has been forcibly contracted and cruelly used by demons for 600 years.

The sows hanging here are collectively known as 'Fruits.'

I can't die... No...! Please kill me! Ahhh! Lord Del-Rumlumtund!

Kill meeee!

Even if the brains and internal organs of the 'Fruits' are completely eaten, they can still live.

According to Del-Rumlumtund, the soul is forcibly fixed to the flesh, allowing one to become immortal, able to live even without a brain.

Mi

Relih

I hate this~~ I'm going to be happy again.

Thump thump thump thump

It's consuming my body again, consuming me... It hurts so much, it's so scary!

Ah, I'm so happy I'm going to lose it again! Ahahaha!

The greatest advantage of this orchard is that these sows, whose brains have been removed and discarded, can be reused.

Let

But it all feels so good! Ahhhhh~~ I'm going to climax again, I'm going to be happy~~ Save me~~~~

The demons produced by the 'Fruits' are active as bio-weapons on the front lines of criminal organizations' battlefields. As long as the sacrifices are continuously offered to Del-Rumlumtund, great demons can maintain peaceful coexistence with criminal organizations. Sows are available in any quantity. It is likely that this place can continue to be effectively utilized as a recycling facility for discarded pigs.

Through her cruelty, she even developed a fear of happiness. Listening to her screams filled with terror, pleas, and bliss seemed to be Del-Rumlumtund's greatest pleasure.

Then, using the remaining flesh and soul as a sacrifice, they continuously produce demons throughout their bodies and will never die from now on, forever tormented by demons. Especially a certain witch, Del-Rumlumtund's favorite, by inflicting terrible pain upon her, making her feel the ultimate happiness in this world.

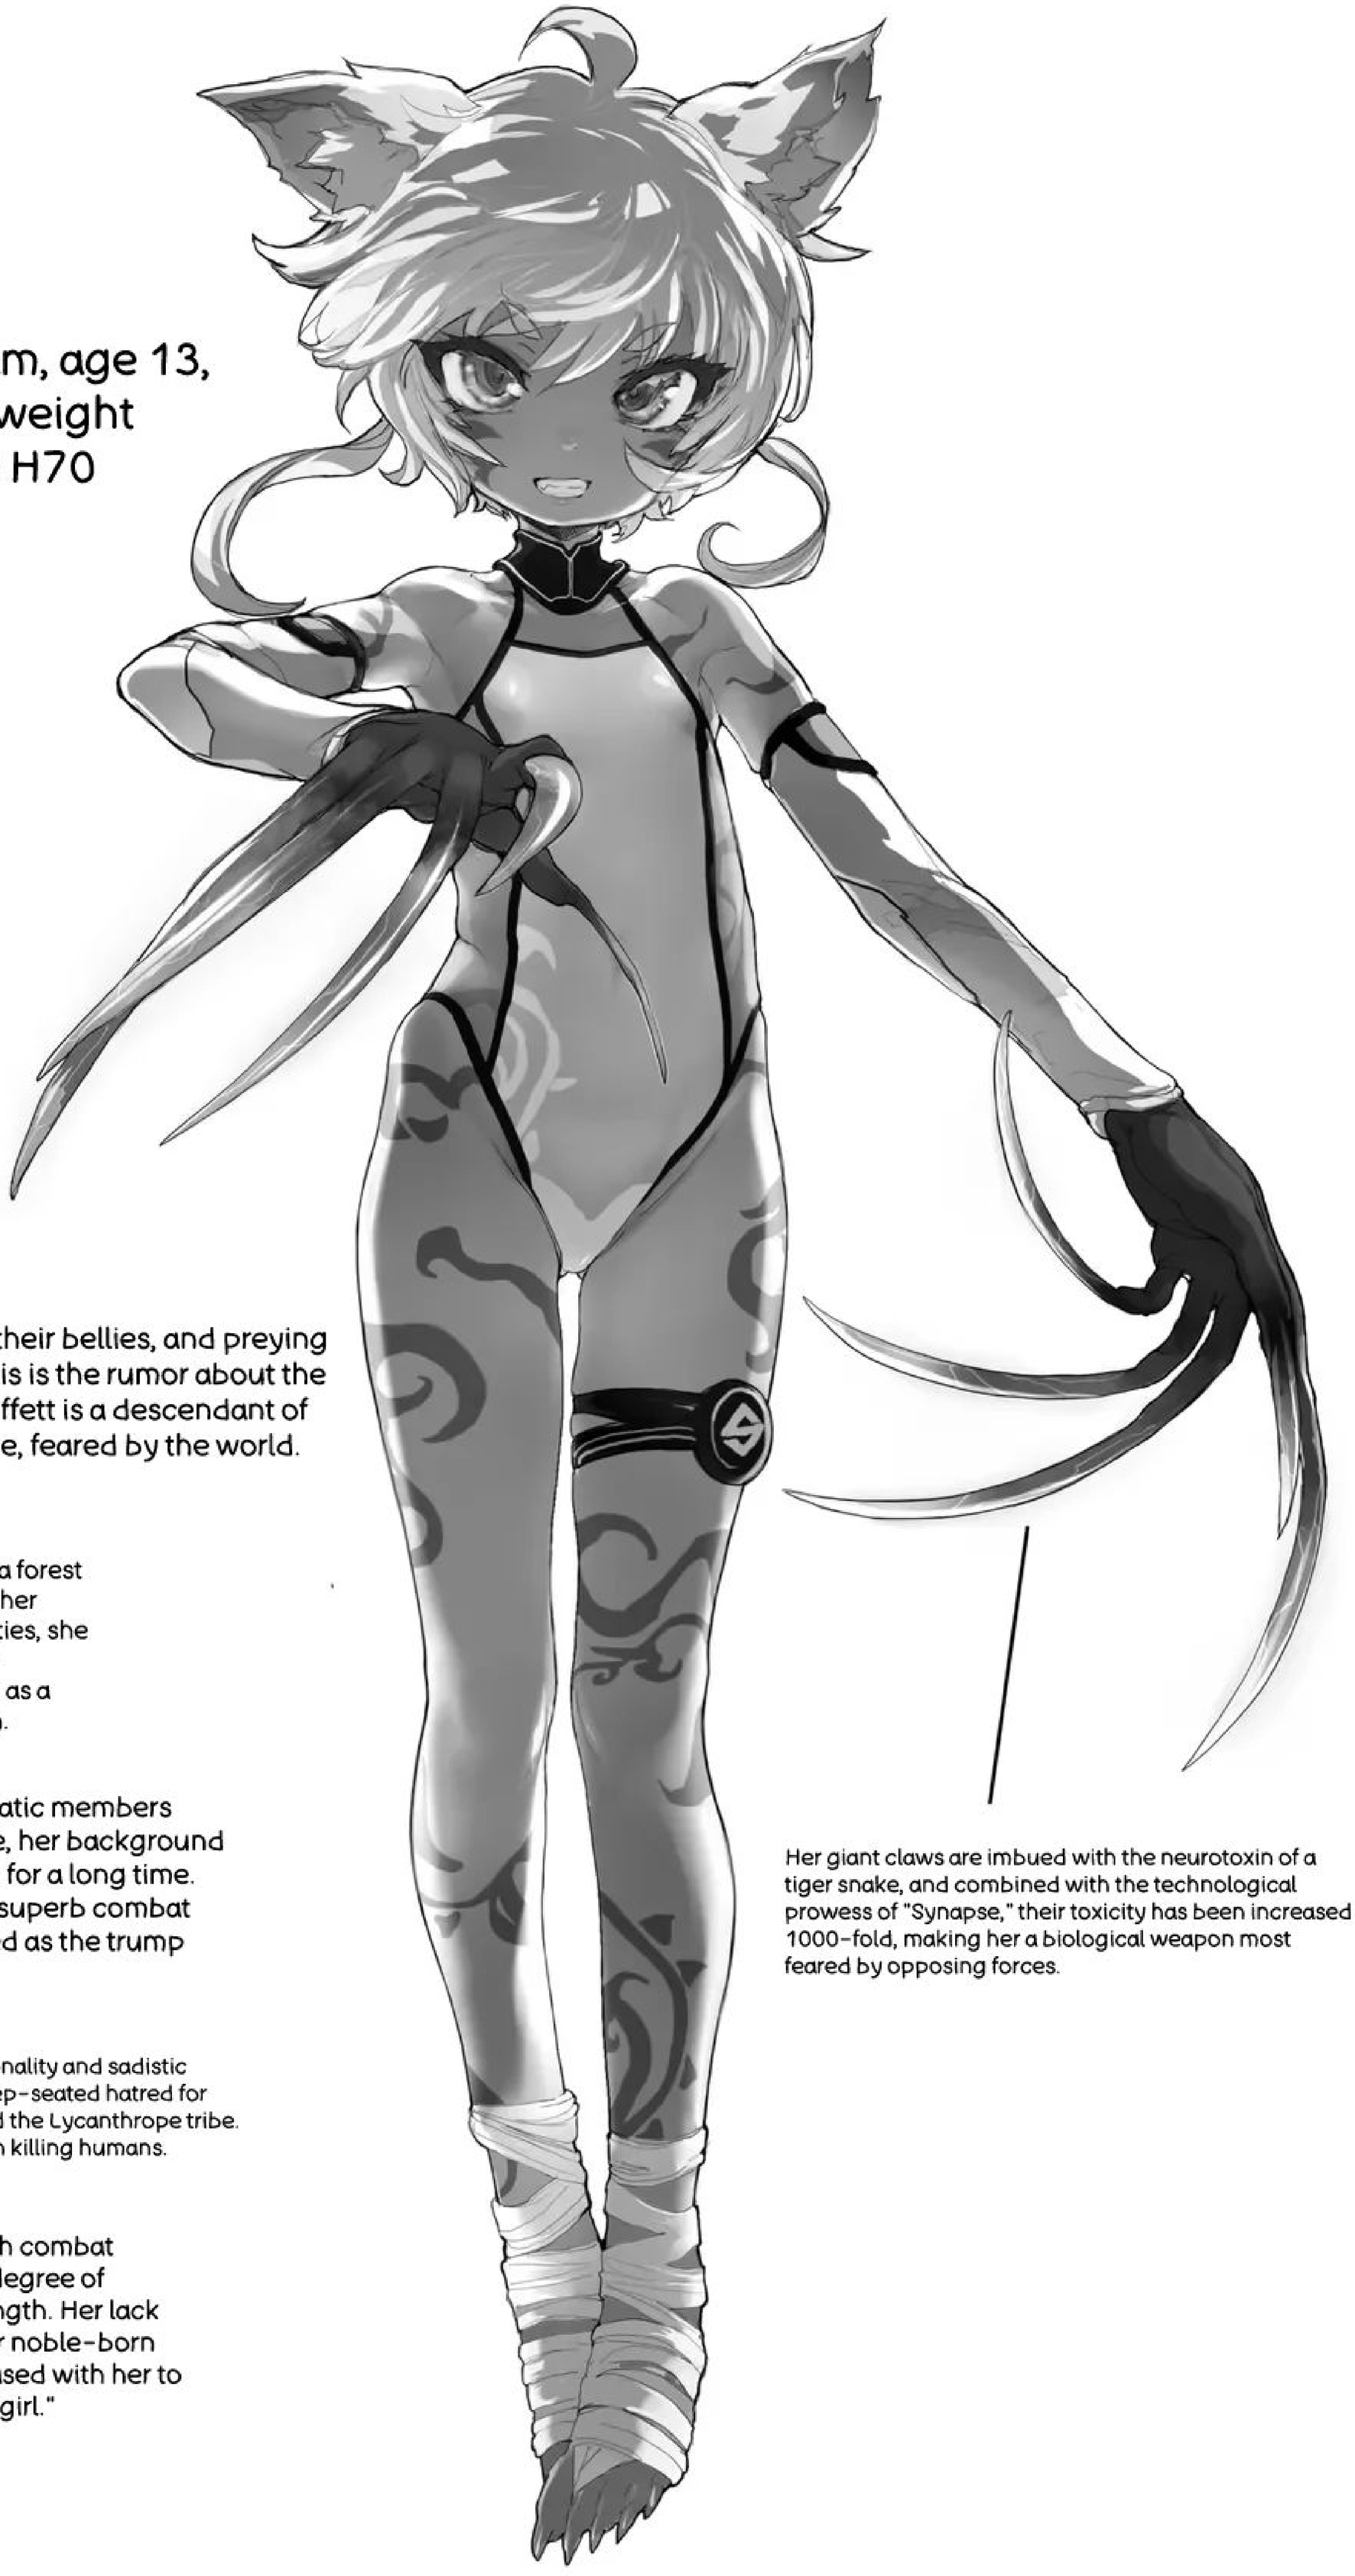
Buffett Managam, age 13, height 140cm, weight 38kg, B66 W49 H70



"Eating the dead to fill their bellies, and preying on the moon wolf."...This is the rumor about the Lycanthrope tribe. Buffett is a descendant of this Lycanthrope tribe, feared by the world.

Half a year ago, "Synapse" discovered Buffett living in a forest in Southern Europe. Due to her extraordinary physical abilities, she quickly caught "Synapse's" attention and was recruited as a member of the organization.

For the "Nobles" aristocratic members who value family lineage, her background led to her being scorned for a long time. Nevertheless, given her superb combat abilities, she was selected as the trump card for the action unit.

Buffett has a belligerent personality and sadistic tendencies. She harbors a deep-seated hatred for humans who once persecuted the Lycanthrope tribe. She finds immense pleasure in killing humans.

Possessing extremely high combat power, she has a certain degree of arrogance about her strength. Her lack of teamwork has led other noble-born members who are displeased with her to call her the "Phoenix Wildgirl."

Her giant claws are imbued with the neurotoxin of a tiger snake, and combined with the technological prowess of "Synapse," their toxicity has been increased 1000-fold, making her a biological weapon most feared by opposing forces.

Surround her and kill her... Aahh!!

Go die!!

Go die

What happened? This guy is so fast...!

Get out of the way, you riffraff!

To think that a weak human who dies with just a light touch would try to stop me, Baphomet! How utterly ridiculous!

Everyone put on gas masks immediately!

I'm about to spray gas to suppress powers!

Tuihou is a rumored user of the poison claw.

Haaah... A moonlit night...

Huh? What are you thinking about?

My body is feeling a painful prickly sensation~

I've developed a phobia of all poisons that makes me resistant to them...

Watch me slice everyone to shreds!!!!

How could poison gas possibly affect me!!

Don't mess up my face, or you won't be able to get it up later! I'll make sure you experience the feeling of being hammered like a stake!

You arrogant show-off doesn't seem to be liked by your partners. You deserve to be betrayed by them!

This is an antibody-removing agent specially formulated for this guy's body. He's already immobilized by his own neurotoxin.

The stuff leaked from the 'synapse' is quite effective.

Huh?

Huh...?

Then the first shot is mine!!

If it's like this, you'll shoot out all the thick sperm full of pregnancy in one go...!

Really? Hurry up, it's my turn to try!

The vaginal flesh is twisted so hard . Even though the poison is gone, the remaining trace amounts of neurotoxin still make my dick tingly and so comfortable~ : Ah~!

Oh oh

Good, finally took it off . If she gets naughty, she can be very dangerous, so I have to remove her little hands . Then I can sell them at a high price to those busybodies.

Ugh

Phew

This tingly hole is so comfortable I could get addicted

Remember the face of everyone who fucks you, otherwise you won't know who the father of the child is, hahahahahahaha!

Hehehe, don't worry about your muscles becoming slack from the toxins, or about vomiting slightly when bitten deeply. The sensation in the throat pouch is also amazing!

Whenever I want to have fun, this 24-hour convenience hole that can be used anytime is really convenient! This warm, pink, roe-like granular sensation is truly irresistible~

Hehehe! I'll use this thick, big meat rod to help you scrape out the semen left by that man earlier!

Kki

Let me have some fun too~

They say this esper girl is a famous virgin.

Oh, I feAh like my balls are being squeezed~!!!!

The tingling sensation that occasionally hits me... what a wonderful stimulation... ahh, so good...

C

Hey, pass out! The people behind still want to go! Show some spirit and serve me well!

All the bitter liquid was poured into the arrogant mouth hole.

OX-OO

If you want another dose, spill the internal info on Synapse!

How is it? Does the semen shot into your brain after taking the drug taste good!!!!

I said...! Spill it all and give me the drug!

Mmm

This pussy, which I can't get enough of, makes me want to fuck it non-stop, I can't stop pounding it, I just want to cum, cum, cum!!

Get pregnant with this semen-milk that's been stirred around in your uterus, get pregnant!!!!

– A few months later –

Come on, relax your muscles, the feeling will pour into your post-partum vagina immediately.

Huff, another child is coming out!

Hurry and push out the third one!

The comfortable feeling, don't stop...

After finishing off the last brat and having my way with you one last time, I'll process you into meat for consumption and set you free. Isn't that great!

I've basically extracted all the information about his abilities. This guy is useless now.

(19)

B105 W78 H91

Height 84cm (excluding prosthetics)
171cm~30000cm (including prosthetics)
Weight kg (excluding prosthetics) 68kg~10t
(including prosthetics)

Belongs to the European branch of "Synapse". She is a member of the special combat unit "Nobles" and the current head of a wealthy aristocratic family. As an unmarried noblewoman, Emma lived a carefree life, but "an incident" five years ago caused her to lose her limbs and parents. Afterward, she was taken in by "Synapse" and given liquid prosthetics.

After "the incident", Emma developed an intense hatred for members of criminal organizations and fights with all her might to slaughter her enemies.

Emma has a tyrannical personality, characterized by arrogance and aggressiveness. However, this stems from an inferiority complex due to her innate abilities as an esper not being very strong, requiring her to rely on prosthetics to enhance her combat power.

Emma now works tirelessly at "Synapse", with her assets fully managed by her successor uncle.

She is engaged in operations to eliminate the criminal organization "Misnack", which has a close relationship with her, alongside other esper girls who use prosthetics and are affiliated with the same organization. However...

Blood Sloan
Ability: Embrace of Noble Blood

Emma possesses the esper ability to manipulate her own blood. As this ability consumes a large amount of blood, maintaining her blood volume requires a significant caloric intake. If she only used her expelled blood to create a small blade, it would be an ability of C-class or lower at best.

However, the liquid prosthetics given to Emma by "Synapse" are virtually invincible equipment, developed by combining Emma's blood with the cells of a hyper-regeneration esper (registered name: Tachibana, Japan branch). The liquid prosthetics can freely alter their mass and density, easily slicing through the composite armor of the latest main battle tank and showing no difficulty against a 120mm smoothbore cannon shell.

The limb stumps are equipped with sockets to enhance the blood manipulation signals from Emma's brain, allowing for better control of the liquid prosthetics.

H88 Age 15
Height
165cm
Weight 56kg

An esper belonging to the European branch of the esper organization "Synapse." An elite of noble birth, she is very proud. Combined with her own powerful esper abilities, she has become arrogant and self-righteous. Her personality thus has obvious flaws.

Esper Ability: Tactile Telekinesis

Lianna can control things she touches, making her an extremely powerful A-class telekinetic esper. The moment her body touches something harder than liquid, the object can move on its own according to her subconscious imagination, even without her conscious thought. Her subconscious image of herself is "superhuman." Her overwhelmingly strong S-class physical abilities are actually just the effect of her esper power.

Lianna herself does not know that her esper power is telekinesis, always believing it to be an ability that enhances her body. The research department believes that this perceptual deviation has made her subconscious imagination more powerful, thus strengthening her abilities. Therefore, the true nature of her esper power is classified information that has not even been disclosed to her.

Her esper power began to manifest during infancy, and she has never experienced "pain" in her entire life. Because of this, Lianna is very insensitive to the suffering of others and has been diagnosed as a sadist with antisocial personality tendencies. She once boasted that provoking enemies and slaughtering them one-sidedly is her greatest pleasure.

Lianna is always seeking thrills and lives life to the fullest. However, she is quite dissatisfied with not having experienced anything that makes her feel in danger.

She masturbates daily while fantasizing about the men she has abused.

Just wait for rescue obediently! ...Why does everyone's head only think of charging in!

Don't shoot mindlessly! The opponent's ability is reflection...!

Just as Zoe said. At best, they're just a bunch of thugs. I'll make you suffer the consequences of your actions with my ability.

Salome Ashfield

—Salome Ashfield 1

Age: 14 Ability: Repulsive Boundary

Repulsive Boundary

Salome can summon a repulsion field with her hands. Not only objects, but the repulsion field can directly reflect water and fire, and even abilities. It's an ability that can directly reflect all things. Salome grew up in an orphanage and joined the organization after her abilities were discovered by 'Synapse'. Because she was born in poverty, she has a strong sense of resistance towards 'Nobles', an organization composed mainly of members from aristocratic backgrounds, and is planning how to overthrow them from below. She and 'Zoe', who comes from the same poor background and was abused by aristocratic members, became best friends as soon as they joined the team. Salome's forehead is implanted with an ability-amplifying device, which has the effect of enhancing the outbreak of her abilities. The device is currently in the testing phase, and its performance and effects are classified information, but Salome has already informed Zoe about its performance and related information in order to show off to her. She is currently planning to overthrow the Nobles.

It's merely to satisfy the interrogator's personal sadism. Numerous espers are horribly tortured here, their weak lives slowly fading away.

Shalome was tied to a child's high chair, and the device her informant mentioned was being removed. Her past ambitions were long gone; Shalome was now just a grotesque shell, crying out mournfully for her friend's rescue. Little did she know, the friend she was desperately calling out to was the very person who had plunged her into this hell.

In the 'dining hall,' before Shalome was executed, because the informant mentioned 'Shalome had a special ability-assisting device installed in her forehead,' she was spared from being slaughtered and dismembered. However, she was taken into a new room, where a more brutal, living hell awaited her.

An elite member of 'Nobles', belonging to the 'Synapse' European headquarters. Vella was born into a prestigious family and is a typical young lady.

Vella's psychic ability can generate a 'space' in the form of a cube with a maximum side length of 100 meters. 'Space Compression' is an S-class ability that can compress the side length of this space down to millimeter units.

Vella possesses extremely high destructive power, and one of her habits is to destroy the targets' buildings and facilities. However, Vella's current mission is to rescue the psychics from the Japan headquarters who were captured earlier. In this rescue mission, Vella will need to use her psychic abilities to eliminate enemy combat personnel.

Closely following Vella are two C-class psychics. Both are Vella's admirers. One is the psychic named 'Steam' (right), whose ability is to release smoke screens. The other is the psychic named 'Shamo' (left), who has the ability of thermal detection.

Commander of the Intelligence Department of "Synapse" European Branch, and also a commander belonging to "Nobles". She possesses the ability to infiltrate her entire personality into the network without any equipment. She uses her ability to connect to the "Synapse" data backend, carrying out operational command and intelligence management and operations.

Sarah can operate weapon systems through the network and can carry out large-scale remote attacks by herself. Due to her complete lack of close combat ability, Sarah has arranged for a personal guard whose brain has been implanted with a control chip to act as her bodyguard.

Sarah has an arrogant personality, believing that everything in this world is controllable, and always viewing others as chess pieces. She shows clear discrimination towards non-combat personnel who are completely useless in combat. Sarah lets personal feelings interfere with her operations, deliberately assigning people she dislikes as pawns, so it cannot be said that she is a very capable commander.

However, due to the rarity of her ability and her capacity for high-intensity intelligence processing, she holds a considerably high position within the organization. Sarah enjoys hacking into enemy minds, disabling their auto-defense walls, and then dealing with them herself.

Outside the jurisdiction of superpower organizations, people who harbor dissatisfaction with this world have formed the European Technical Research Bureau. The Bureau and underground organizations have joined forces in an attempt to dismantle 'Synapse.' They use captured espers as research material for various experiments while planning to profit greatly from the results of these research experiments.

Sarah was arrested by the underground organization and then transported to the Technical Research Bureau's personal adjustment room. Her limbs were completely bound and every part of her body was injected with drugs. In order to modify her into a high-end bio-device, her five senses first needed to be meticulously adjusted, and the sensory locks deep within her brain were to be unraveled one by one.

Sarah's body had already been eroded by drugs, leaving her with no resistance. The adjustment process encountered no obstacles and proceeded smoothly into the final stage. The pleasure box deep within her mind was about to be unlocked. This sow was awaiting the final blow.

There's a special device that can record senses and memories as electronic data. Through this system, others can actually experience the recorded senses and memories. This system isn't widely available for civilian use and is mainly used for military training. Among the underworld, it's called 'computer drugs'. Just like real drugs, the illegal trade of these electronic drugs is incessant.

If you want more drugs, you better tighten that pussy, you sow!

Give me the drugs

Drugs, drugs, drugs, drugs

Give me the drugs

Mmmph, gurgle

Sarah's brain possesses extremely sensitive psychic perception towards electronic data. Sensory information from espers who were tortured and those who experienced physical pleasure is continuously fed into Sarah's brain. This includes the memories of sex slaves whose limbs were severed and who were drugged, the memories of intelligence agents who were publicly lobotomized to warn others... and even the memories of people beaten as sandbags under the guise of endurance tests. These endless orgasmic experiences are constantly consuming Sarah's psyche.

Subsequently, the cleanup operation for the remaining members and affiliated agents began.

After handing over Sarah, who controlled the "Synapse" network system, to the underground organization, the "Synapse" European branch was destroyed.

By connecting to the internal network of "Synapse" which "Sarah" uses as a bio-device, it is possible to fully obtain information on all of "Synapse's" hidden communication systems, personal data of all members, and management authority over associated facilities and all equipment.

To improve its portability, miniaturization modifications began. Due to the effects of the simulated experiences and pain-pleasure processing used for mind control during the adjustment phase, physical stimulation may cause a decrease in its performance. To prevent this drawback and improve portability, discussions are underway regarding the necessity of completely removing its brain.

Martha Alice B71W47H83 Height: 139cm Weight: 37kg
Age: Over 500 years old (details unknown)

There are two theories about Alice's birth. One theory is that upon her capture during the witch hunts, the soul of the brutally murdered witch entered the body of her familiar, a cat. The other theory is that she is a collective entity formed from the souls of cats used for centuries in sacrifices. Alice herself has never commented on this, leaving her specific origins shrouded in mystery. However, genetically speaking, Alice is indeed no different from a cat. The only confirmed fact is that she is the oldest known ability user, with records dating back to the Middle Ages.

Unique Ability: Straycat

Alice's ability allows her to stop time for everyone except herself. The duration she can stop time ranges from 1 second to 17,519 hours (approximately 2 years), which Alice can specify. She can also use it continuously, making it a practically invincible ability. The only drawback is that once activated, the ability cannot be deactivated mid-way. As a child, Alice suffered the pain of being trapped alone in a silent world, waiting for the ability to wear off after accidentally activating it. Because of this, for hundreds of years, she has only used her ability for time stops lasting mere seconds. Furthermore, her 'demon-sealed claws' on her blood-stained limbs can slice stone and steel in a stopped world, possessing a hardness capable of tearing apart heaven and earth, making Alice nearly invincible in close combat.

Due to Alice's extremely long lifespan, she is indifferent to the lives of other humans and creatures. For her, merely continuing to live and enjoy eating, sleeping, and sex is everything. Alice's attitude towards missions and research is overly casual, making her unreliable even as a combatant. However, due to her extremely powerful ability, she enjoys VIP treatment at 'Synapse', where her needs are catered to. Alice generally doesn't care when pampered like a cat by young girls, but if a man treats her like a cat, Alice's extreme personality causes her to become instantly enraged, even developing a murderous intent towards men.

Alice has caused various nationally sensational incidents across regions like Eurasia and the Americas. Whenever a crisis arises, she activates her ability, stops time, and escapes. She may be staying at 'Synapse' because she senses the aura emanating from the girls with abilities, an aura strongly reminiscent of how she felt when she, as a witch, was persecuted.

Alice's source of sustenance is 'qi'. As long as she receives moonlight, semen, and the blood of young boys, she can achieve immortality. She severs the limbs of captured men with large penises, raising them as semen reserves and living dildos.

So, those girls with special abilities have become human sex toys for these grunts?

Mother"

Hail Mary

Real Name: Sample P1776--010004 Age: 13 (age before cryogenic sealing) Size: Height 165, B122 W51 H110 Special Ability: General Enhancement Type

Her purely rudimentary enhancement ability has exceeded S-class and become extreme. This "abnormal" state means beams from her eyes, the ability to crush stars with her bare hands, resilience and regeneration that can withstand nuclear bombs, flight that circles the Earth 7 times in 1 second, and jumping to the moon in 1.4 seconds, etc...

It was a success through SYNAPSE US's genetic engineering. The first test-tube artificial ability girl. She was the greatest masterpiece in terms of numbers, but she was mentally immature, unable to distinguish good from evil, and crushed everything she disliked like ants. The beam she unleashed during her first rampage destroyed the planet Uranus, and since then, one planet in the solar system has been lost.

In the end, the researchers could not control her, and humanity, fearing her, buried her underground and cryogenically sealed her. Beist V was a byproduct born during her creation.

All general enhancement types such as heat ray systems, regeneration systems, and muscle strengthening are based on her divided factors. The SUS girls, who should have been sealed and unrecorded, admire her, whom they have never seen, and call her their Holy Mother and pray to her.

Currently, SYNAPSE US ability users have slight traces of her weakened factors mixed in during pregnancy or training, but SUS's top member, Linda Alexander, is her direct granddaughter and an experimentally successful case due to her concentrated bloodline.

Because she was a designer baby made to look attractive to men, she was born with fewer internal organs and ribs than a human, with a design that prioritized appearance and adult toy performance. She survived through her regeneration ability, but her sisters manufactured at the same time could not even survive until their first menstruation.

"Queen" Abigail White (16)

A former hero of Synapse US. She resolved to create a world where girls with special abilities could live freely without being dominated by men. Dissatisfied with Synapse US's policy of being managed by male politicians, she led other girls with abilities who were discontent on the inside and left. As their leader, she established Girls Nation, a group of villains. Because her organization only consisted of girls, her abilities weren't noticeable internally, but when unleashed, her power to control half the global population is absolute. She's childhood friends with Linda, the leader of Synapse US.

Girl Supremacy - Absolute Girl S-Class Manipulation Ability: The ability to control men by ingesting their bodily fluids, turning them into absolute slaves in love. Even evaporated sweat and sweet body odor possess the ability's effects. While body odor can be mitigated with gas masks, the concentrated fluids, like blood, can penetrate iron plates and protective gear, exerting a strong control. She carries a blood-bullet gun as her ultimate weapon but has never fired it.

While this ability has an absolute effect on men, granting her complete control over their life and death, it also affects women by making them "fond of her like a close friend or lover." The girls around her become affectionate and never hostile.

This ability is the realization of her childhood desire to "not be disliked" and "be needed" when she was lonely. "Before her powers manifested, the only one who was kind to her and remained her friend without relying on powers was Ring, who she considered special.

She poured her saliva into the state's water supply, creating millions of male slaves. She is protected by slaves in her own territory, and even heroes cannot reach her.

She is currently attempting to gain control of all of America by making the President, with whom she has a cooperative relationship, fall madly in love with her... but...

146cm B129 W57 H98

Likes: Friends and comrades, small animals, fruit candies.
Dislikes: Exercise, arrogant men, her own body.

She is self-conscious about her short stature, long torso, short legs, large breasts, and thick legs. She forcefully wears platform shoes nearly 20cm high to appear taller than her subordinates. While she normally prefers to wear baggy clothes that hide her awkward physique, she suffers from extreme hyperhidrosis, causing sweat to drip wh she wears clothes, which paradoxically strengthens her abilities. To suppress her powers, she spends most of her time nearly naked.

SYDaP

The over 40 million weak men sought salvation in drugs.

Years after the collapse of Synapse, a drug called "Bayst V" that temporarily grants superpowers had spread across the American continent.

This drug, born from ability research, gave even the incompetent and worthless ordinary citizens a faint sense of omnipotence that allowed them to become winners called ability users, while also being a dangerous drug that led to death.

Young women were kidnapped and dismantled by the Villains, processed into a "diluent" for the shoddy Bayst V.

The criminal organization "Villains" spread shoddy "Bayst V" throughout the U.S., armed themselves with military strength and abilities, and were destroying America's laws and order.

To save such a desperate America, one president rose to the challenge.

Now! U.S. President Hannibal Smith and Synapse US leader Linda Alexander have exchanged a firm handshake!

APSE U.S.

"Holy Knight" Hinata Cavendish (18)
154cm B101 W54 H88

A hero exiled from the Kingdom of Briton, which collapsed due to a coup d'état. She claims to be a descendant of the royal family, but her lineage is unconfirmed.

A strict do-gooder, both to herself and others, she has a tendency to be overly severe with evil. Combined with her ability's excessive aggression, she was prohibited from offensive deployment by the SUS. Her supernatural power is the embodiment of tradition, history, and justice; she is a natural enemy to villains and an angel of death to humanity, born with original sin.

Excalibur: The Sword of Legitimate Rule, A-Rank Armament Supernatural Ability

A shining weapon of justice that annihilates evil. It is usually stored within her body, ready to be drawn at any time. Those with a negative karma value will invariably perish the moment they touch its light. It delivers the same deathly judgment to murderers and shoplifters alike, punishing anyone who tends towards evil, thus her rule of justice allows no opportunity for reform except in the afterlife.

Paradise Lost: Eternal Feast, S-Rank Enhancement Supernatural Ability

The true worth of the holy sword lies in its scabbard, which can sheath a blade that cuts through all and never rusts. By taking on the role of the holy sword's "scabbard," she becomes its guardian. When the sword is sheathed, she attains complete immortality, is protected from all ill intent, and never bleeds.

Due to this supernatural ability, she is completely invincible when the sword is sheathed, making her performance as a shield unparalleled among all ability users. The effect is lost when she is not in her scabbard state, during the process of drawing the sword.

Her actual physical age remains that of a 13-year-old when her abilities awakened. If she can maintain her immortality, she has the potential to become a permanent ability user like Alice, who once existed in the EU branch.

VILLAINS

Ava (20 years old) C-class esper

A stray esper who grew up in the slums. Her ability to create cutting winds is mediocre. While sharp, it can only cut organic matter and takes time to aim, making it lack versatility. Never scouted by Synapse, she was raised as a violent enforcer for slum gangs. After the gangs were absorbed into the Villains, she was in charge of dismembering the women they brought to me at the "ranch." However, turning 20 this year, her "girlish phase" has finally come to an end.

Why would you do something so cruel? You're a woman too, aren't you?

Oh, please, help me!

Guentz

Don't lump me in with you useless people.

I'm a special ability user, you trashy women!

Useless people should just stay quiet and be meat sacks.

Yo, sis, there's someone I want you to meet.

Ooh, found you!

Huh? What is it? I'm not in the mood for that right now.

It's only been half a year since I turned 20, but my powers... I can't possibly graduate yet...

Didn't they say we had a 'moratorium' until around age 25?

The sharpness has dulled. クッ

If this keeps up, I'll...

ヤバい

You brat! How dare you!

ドカ

Master, is this old hag my predecessor?

This guy is our new recruit, the one who replaced sis as the demolition contractor here.

These are the first-generation livestock mass-produced at this ranch. They grow fast, don't they?

Your uterus can still be used, so do your best at the ranch!

A 20-year-old hag who's a superpowered 'girl' is impossible, right?

The slave girls mass-produced here are still young, but when they reach the age of 20 and "graduate," they are processed as meat sacks and reutilized as broilers, realizing an eco-friendly and sustainable society where new superpowered individuals can be harvested.

The unit "Swine," composed of these piglets from mother sow slaughter, consists of superpowered girls who pledge allegiance to the male villains.

Some mothers die from cervical compression due to fetal weight gain, but the offspring born from this death orgasm often grow quickly and possess powerful abilities.

The groundbreaking aspect of this ranch is that women of childbearing age, whether they have powers or not, can be equally utilized as meat sacks without discrimination. This has made ordinary women without powers a valuable source of income for villains, serving as meat sacks that lay golden eggs.

A ranch that forcibly makes pregnant women give birth to superpowered babies by administering large doses of Haste V. To prevent the mother's resistance or escape, they are smoked after Daruma processing, and superpowered girls are mass-produced through broilerization specialized for reproductive function.

Hero: Sister Arsenal

Real Name: Eunice Dakota McCarthy Age: 17 Size: 174cm 72kg B118 W80 H108

Affiliated with Synapse US. A kind and devout sister hero who treats even ordinary Caucasian women without supernatural abilities impartially. She is passionate about not only combat but also volunteer work and is loved by the citizens.

Gun-for-all
Ability: Second Amendment The ability to generate firearm copies from her body that she has touched. She annihilates enemies with overwhelming firepower. The copy is possible even if Eunice does not understand the mechanism of the target firearm.

While normal firearms are often rendered ineffective by her abilities, the guns Eunice generates are enhanced versions of the originals, and even .22 caliber bullets turn people into bloody mist.

Although there is a limit to the number she can generate per hour, the generated firearms remain even after leaving Eunice's body.

Born into an apocalyptic family in the South, her experience growing up surrounded by firearms since childhood is the source of her abilities.

Behind her hero activities, she fanatically worships the "Holy Mother" believed in by girls with supernatural powers and organizes a cult called "Holy Adventists," believing that her second coming is the only way to make America great again. She considers the current administration, led by a Black male president, unfit to lead the United States. She is indoctrinating girls within Synapse US who lack supernatural factors, providing them with guns she has created, and is preparing for an armed uprising in accordance with the spirit of the "Holy Mother" and the "Second Amendment of the United States Constitution" that she upholds.

A hero exiled from the Kingdom of Britain, which collapsed due to a coup. Claims to be a descendant of royalty, but the truth is unknown.

A judge who is just to herself and others, harbors a sense of justice, and cannot tolerate the existence of evil in the slightest. Due to the excessive aggressiveness of her abilities, she is prohibited from deployment by SUS. Her powers constantly embody traditional justice. She views the Verans, born with original sin, as natural enemies and angels of slaughter.

Orthodox Blade,
A-class Armed
Ability

The blade of justice that eradicates evil. It is usually hidden within herself and can be drawn at any time. Any evil person who touches the sword's light will instantly die. Whether a murderer or a thief, Hinata gives the same death sentence to anyone with even the slightest evil inclination. Under the rule of justice, all evil can only be reborn through reincarnation after death.

S-class Enhancement Ability

Severing all, it is no illusion. The sheath that can contain the holy sword is the most important part of the holy sword. By becoming the "sheath" for the holy sword herself, she becomes its guardian. In the sword-sheathed state, she is immortal and unchanging, and under the holy sword's protection, she will not suffer any damage.

Because she possesses this ability, she is completely invincible in the sword-sheathed state, making her defense capabilities top-tier among all ability users. However, this effect is lost once the sword is drawn.

Her actual physical age is 13, the age when her ability awakened. If she can maintain the state of eternal life, it is possible for her to remain eternally young, like Alice, a time-stopping ability user who once existed in the European branch.

This drug, born from superpower research, grants many ordinary and worthless commoners the sense of accomplishment of winning like a strong person, thus it is highly regarded and spreads rapidly among the people, becoming a deadly dangerous substance.

Young women are kidnapped and dismembered by the "Villain", and processed into a diluted solution for low-quality "Paste V".

The criminal organization "Villain" spreads low-quality "Paste V" throughout America, arming themselves with military power and superpowers, and the law and order of America are being destroyed.

In such desperate times, a president emerged to save America.

Wow, it's right there!

Really? What's wrong...

I only just turned 20, and half a year has passed, my powers have already declined...

Around the age of 25, my supernatural powers will completely disappear...

Someone who has already turned 20 can no longer be called a psychic [girl], right?

Villain
Esper
Ranch

The ranch forcibly injects pregnant women with massive amounts of Pasteur V to give birth to esper babies. To prevent host resistance and escape, they are subjected to Daruma processing, then hanged and smoked. Through specialization of reproductive functions, countless esper girls are born this way.

The hallmark of this ranch is the existence of espers among breeding-age pregnant women; ordinary people without espers are treated the same, used as wombs. Therefore, even ordinary women without espers are considered valuable sources of income by Villain as wombs that lay golden eggs.

As the fetuses gain weight, some hosts die due to neck compression, and the commodities born in the dead wombs are mostly fast-growing beings with powerful espers.

And the unit [Svien], formed by gathering the piglets born from these killed sows, consists of esper girls who swear their lives to the men of [Villain].

Although the slave girls are still young, when they turn 20, they will also "graduate" and be processed into wombs for repeated use on the ranch, thus achieving a sustainable society that benefits the environment by breeding new espers.

Hail Mary

Real Name: Sample P1776--010004 Age: 13 (age before cryogenic sealing) Size: Height 165, B122 W51 H110 Special Ability: General Enhancement Type

Her purely rudimentary enhancement ability has exceeded S-class and become extreme. This "abnormal" state means beams from her eyes, the ability to crush stars with her bare hands, resilience and regeneration that can withstand nuclear bombs, flight that circles the Earth 7 times in 1 second, and jumping to the moon in 1.4 seconds, etc...

It was a success through SYNAPSE US's genetic engineering. The first test-tube artificial ability girl. She was the greatest masterpiece in terms of numbers, but she was mentally immature, unable to distinguish good from evil, and crushed everything she disliked like ants. The beam she unleashed during her first rampage destroyed the planet Uranus, and since then, one planet in the solar system has been lost.

In the end, the researchers could not control her, and humanity, fearing her, buried her underground and cryogenically sealed her. Beist V was a byproduct born during her creation.

All general enhancement types such as heat ray systems, regeneration systems, and muscle strengthening are based on her divided factors. The SUS girls, who should have been sealed and unrecorded, admire her, whom they have never seen, and call her their Holy Mother and pray to her.

Currently, SYNAPSE US ability users have slight traces of her weakened factors mixed in during pregnancy or training, but SUS's top member, Linda Alexander, is her direct granddaughter and an experimentally successful case due to her concentrated bloodline.

Because she was a designer baby made to look attractive to men, she was born with fewer internal organs and ribs than a human, with a design that prioritized appearance and adult toy performance. She survived through her regeneration ability, but her sisters manufactured at the same time could not even survive until their first menstruation.

A public safety maintenance cyborg deployed by the police, realized through President Smith's policies.

Cybernetic Organism Cop, commonly known as Psycho-cop.

A humanitarian project developed in one of the sectors of the research facility Amnion, which resurrects criminals by cyberizing them after they were killed by individuals with special abilities.

Developed to save patriotic girls, it has gained public support with the slogan "Immortal cyborgs resurrected to protect the nation and its people," funded by a massive budget for research and development.

Since the bodies of esper-type ability users are used as batteries to power the unit, their abilities cannot be used. Therefore, they fight only with the police-issued handgun.

These are mass-produced units using the bodies of various ability users, so each unit has a different appearance, but production costs are significantly reduced by mass-producing standardized parts with inexpensive materials for operation. However, the budget alone increases year by year.
